

Vivien Li

Vivien Li is President and CEO of Riverlife, which works to reclaim, restore, and promote Pittsburgh's riverfronts. Previously, Vivien was President of The Boston Harbor Association, which promotes a clean, alive, and accessible Boston Harbor. Vivien was a major force behind completion of Boston's 41-mile HarborWalk public access system, and chaired for fifteen years MassDevelopment's Brownfields Advisory Group.

Vivien is a member of Pittsburgh's Contextual Design Advisory Panel. Previously, she served as a Public Director of The American Institute of Architects' Board; was a board member of the Boston Foundation for Architecture; and was on the Editorial Board of the Boston Society of Architects' Architecture Boston. Vivien has been recognized by the Boston Society of Architects (BSA) as an honorary member, and with a 2015 Award of Excellence by the BSA's Women in Design. She has a master's degree in public administration/urban and regional planning from Princeton University.